Why you need the new Mac Pro

We've got more than 30 different configurations of Mac Pro in stock, so whatever your needs, we have the perfect model ready for you. We even have our own online configurator that allows you to build your own perfect model. Not sure why you need Mac Pro? Here are our top reasons to upgrade...

Better performance for your core apps

The new Mac Pro features dual GPUs as standard, giving you faster performance from graphics intensive applications. It couples these with superfast PCIe flash storage, which cut startup times and ensure applications are ultra-responsive – all of which combines to give you seamless performance on your most demanding tasks (click here to see a 64GB Mac Pro with dual D500 cards play back 18 nodes of blur on an HD clip in realtime).

And when it comes to connectivity, you've got six Thunderbolt 2 ports across three buses, meaning you get the full 20Gbps throughput from as many accessories as possible.

Lower your TCO

Quite simply, Macs stand the test of time better and just last longer. This means you can write them off over a longer period and their residual value is always higher.

Mac Pro meets the EPEAT Gold standard for energy efficiency, which is good news for your power bills as well as the environment. Like all Macs, Mac Pro is reliable, virus-resistant and able to self-diagnose if there is a problem which will drive down your support costs. OS X and key creative and productivity apps are all provided free, so you can say goodbye to costly updates.

Improve productivity

Extreme speed and faster, smoother performance means seamless, uninterrupted working, with background rendering and transcoding giving you more time to work directly on projects rather than watching the render bar. Thunderbolt 2's 20Gbps throughput will deliver near-instant data transfers, avoiding bottlenecks. Our wide choice of configurations all waiting in stock for you means that you will always be able to have the appropriate qualified model for your needs, which will reduce your risk of software incompatibilities or downtime.

JIGSAW24

Why Jigsaw24 for Mac Pro?

Well, besides having a snazzy online configurator, we can...

Find the latest CTO and third party qualified models

We work closely with major software vendors like Avid, Adobe and Autodesk to ensure we can offer the most up to date, qualified hardware. Whether you need a Mac Pro that's equipped to handle the latest version of Resolve or want to integrate existing workstations with shared storage, we are here to help!

Source the best peripherals for your workflow

Realised you're an I/O card down or a monitor short? Our excellent stock holding means that we can offer next business day deliveries on key Mac Pro peripherals and additions from all the major vendors. You can collect your order from our Nottingham or Manchester MediaCityUK offices, whichever's more convenient for you.

Get you the stock when you need it

As well as carrying a huge amount of Mac Pro stock, we can also configure to extra special requirements on the day. If you need a specific model for a new user, give us a call and chances are we'll have something suitable available for next business day delivery. Our engineers are always on standby, so you're ready to go the moment it arrives.

Provide the best Apple support around

As well as providing high-end software, storage solutions and workflow advice, we offer custom configured Mac Pros that slot straight into your facility. Our support team can even arrange to keep hot swappable models with your config in reserve should anything happen, and we offer emergency hardware loans for key pieces. Oh, and our support options start from just £50 per user per year.

Build your perfect Mac Pro

Our online configurator lets you choose your ideal Mac Pro, complete with processor, graphics, storage, peripherals and software. All you have to do is tick the boxes, fill in your details and wait excitedly for the postman.
